Adventure on the Grassland

Last month, Tom and Jack went on holiday to the grassland with their parents. They played games in the bushes.	They jumped out and saw many animals walking around there like zebras and deer. They were excited.	Suddenly, three men drove a truck there. They got out of the truck and got close to the zebras with their hunting tools.
Tom and Jack were worried about the zebras' safety. They climbed into the truck and hit the horn hard. They made big sounds.	The zebras were drinking water in a river and were surprised by the big sounds. They looked around and found the three hunting men.	The zebras jumped out of the water and ran away quickly. The hunting men got cross. They lost the zebras and got nothing.

In the past, people thought about how bats fly at night without seeing anything clearly.

In the 1930s, scientists made research and found that bats use natural sonar. And it can help them see with their ears. When bats want to catch something for food, they will send out sounds from their mouths or noses. When the sounds go back from the thing, the bats' ears can tell them where the thing is. This kind of sonar system is called echolocation(回声定位).

People make use of echolocation and make lots of inventions. These inventions make our life easy and comfortable.

UNIT FIVE WHEN DID THE ANCIENT OLYMPIC GAMES BEGIN?

Lesson 15

[听力材料]

一、Last Sunday, I went to see my grandparents. We were very happy. In the morning, they took me to the zoo. We saw many animals there. In the afternoon, my grandma danced with her sisters in the square. In the evening, my parents came, and we had a big dinner together. After dinner, we said goodbye to my grandparents. We all had a good time.

二、Lingling: When did the ancient Olympic Games begin, Yangyang?

Yangyang: They began in 776 BC, about 3,000 years ago. I learned about them in the PE class.

Lingling: Really? I thought they had a history of only about 100 years.

Yangyang: Well, those are the modern Olympic Games. They are different from the ancient ones.

Lingling: What are the differences?

Yangyang: Well, in the ancient Olympics, there were no women. Only men could take part.

Lingling: That wasn't fair! Which country held the first Olympics?

Yangyang: Greece. The Games were held in Olympia, a city in Greece.

M: Of course. They were held in Athens in 2004. The slogan is "Welcome Home". Athens is the birthplace of the modern Olympic Games. So the Olympic Games went back home in 2004. People were very excited. And many people came to Athens.

W: How many players took part in the Games?

M: Well, about 11,000 players from all over the world.

二、Yangyang: The ancient Olympic Games stopped in Greece a long time ago. There were no games for about 1,500 years.

Lingling: What a shame! When did people hold the first modern Olympics?

Yangyang: They held them in 1896 in Athens, the capital city of Greece.

Lingling: Could both men and women take part in the Games?

Yangyang: Sure they could. Also, there were more events.

Lingling: Now, people from different nations can meet and get to know each other better.

Title: _____

Last summer, Lily's family took a trip to London, the capital city of the UK. In the morning, they saw Big Ben. They went by bus. Big Ben has been ticking since 1859.	They visited Buckingham Palace. It's the house where the Queen's family live. Many people enjoyed a parade in front of it.	Here they came to the London Eye. It was finished in 2000. It is 135m tall. They took a ride in the London Eye and enjoyed the view of the city.
Around half past twelve, they had lunch in a fast food restaurant. They ordered some chips and burgers. They'd like to see more of London.	In the afternoon, they took a ship on the Thames. It is a long and wide river, and also the mother river of the UK. It's about 346km.	Look! Tower Bridge was opening wide for a ship. The bridge was finished in 1894. They were excited. What a busy day!
